The fury and winds of Hurricane Irma will not stop the strongest powerlifters in the United States.

In just two short weeks, 1166 USA Powerlifting Athletes will converge on Orlando, Florida for the 10th annual USA Powerlifting Raw National Championships. This historic event plays host to the top raw powerlifters in the United States and is the qualifying event for the International Powerlifting Federation Classic World Championships.

To get to Raw Nationals is a truly a feat. It requires persistence, commitment to excellence, and an indomitable will. These same traits that exist in the 1166 athletes that will take to the platform in Orlando are shared with the people of Florida. Hurricane Irma wreaked havoc on this mighty state, but that has not inhibited its people's resolve to overcome these tough times. The Championship director, his staff, and the amazing leadership of the Hyatt Regency Hotel - Orlando International Airport and, most importantly, USA Powerlifting have been hard at work ensuring this Championship will be the most successful Raw Nationals yet. Rest assured, Raw Nationals 2017 will run on time, and be a show to remember.

This year's event will be a spectacle. There will be 3 platforms with metal truss systems and professional lighting where athletes display their hard work for the world to see. Trey Cunningham will once again return to provide the best live streaming video available today so that friends and family all over the world can watch and cheer their athletes on. The Hyatt Regency Hotel is fully equipped and ready for the thousands of athletes and support staff that will converge in October. As always, Disney and Universal Studios parks are a short drive away and will be a great experience for all ages.

As training winds down for the most elite raw powerlifters in the United States, we want to wish you the best in strength and skill for this upcoming Raw National Championships. USA Powerlifting continues to be the standard of class, professionalism, and fair competition in the world of powerlifting, and it is because of you, the athletes.

See you on the platform
